Day 1 80 mins	Unit 1: The sea Lesson 1 Listen and Speak	➤get introduced to each other ➤read the dialogue ➤improve listening skills	textbook, writing board	Introduction: Today is the introductory session/lesson. Write “Welcome to English Class” on board. Introduce yourself to the students. Tell them your name and name of the subject you are going to teach them. Introduce the books included in syllabus. Methodology: Ex A: Ask the students to read the words given in the box. Read the instructions aloud. Ask the students to share what kind of sports they play or can play at a seaside activities camp (swimming, diving, boating, sailing, volleyball, basketball etc). Encourage the students to speak but do not correct their mistakes, as the purpose here is to improve their oral fluency. Read aloud the task for the exercise: “the students have to listen and number the topics in the right order” in their textbooks. Ask the students to follow the dialogue silently in their books while you read it aloud. Read the dialogue with energy and enthusiasm. Now ask the students to tell the order of the topics. Read the dialogue again, stop after each section and ask questions to check that they understand the main points of the dialogue. For example: 1. Where does Dan live? 2. How old Dan is? 3. What sports Dan play? Ex B: Ask a volunteer student to come and do the same questions/answers practice with that student. Now make the students sit in pairs following the SOPs and tell them to ask the same questions with one another. Make sure that each student gets the opportunity to ask or answer. Ex C: Follow a similar procedure for the second dialogue as in question 1. Explain the situation by asking who was asking the questions in the first dialogue? (Harry) who is asking the questions in the second dialogue? (Dan) Read the dialogue again and ask students to follow you silently in their books. Ask them to answer the comprehension questions to check that the students understand the main points of the dialogue. For example: Is Harry ten years old? Does Harry go to primary school? Does Harry live in Ramsgate? Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share if Dan has got a good or a bad memory. Home Work: The students will write down at least five things they can do at sea-side as they already have read it in the lesson.

Day 2	Unit 1: The sea Lesson 2 Words	➤ learn and practice vocabulary for the seaside ➤ divide the vocabulary into 'places' and 'living things'	textbook, writing board, worksheet	Introduction: Initiate the lesson by asking the students to share their knowledge of sea creatures (shark, whale, dolphin etc). Link the discussion with the topic. Methodology: Ex A: Show them the picture of the crab and ask the students to name it. Speak out the name of the object with correct and accurate pronunciation and accent. Repeat the same steps with other words. Explain the objects shown in the pictures in the exercise. Ex B: Tell the students that the picture given on the Pg 3 can be sorted out in two groups. Give them some time to ponder over. Associate it with their previous knowledge of noun. Ask a volunteer student to define noun: "It is the name of things, places or persons." Point out that these are pictures of two types of noun, whether they are things or places. Ask them to differentiate between living things and non-living things. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share at least one sentence about sea creatures mentioned in the lesson (shark, whale, crab) Home Work: The students will do the worksheet in homework.
Day 3	Unit 1: The sea Lesson 2 Words	➤ divide the vocabulary into 'places' and 'living things' ➤ revise the phonic patterns 'ea' and 'oa'	textbook, writing board, worksheet	Introduction: Begin the lesson by asking the students to share their favorite sea creature and also share the reason and give your feedback. Methodology: Ex C: Guide the students how to fill in the missing words in given passage of story. Ask the students to sit in groups and first read the passage at least two times. Give students five minutes to think the missing words and after that ask each group one by one to share their suggestive words. Listen to them and give your feedback. Ex D: Write down the words on separate pieces of chart paper given in the exercise D. Make two blocks on the board with two headings 1. "Words with 'ea' sounds and 2 "words with 'oa' sounds". Now ask the students to come, choose and paste the words in the respective blocks. Now ask the students to repeat the words after you with correct patterns of phonics and pronunciation. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share some more words with phonics 'ea' and 'oa'.
Day 4	Unit 1: The sea Lesson 3 Reading: Diving for treasure	➤ develop reading ➤ do picture description ➤ answer the related questions	textbook, writing board	Introduction: Ask the students to look at the pictures and predict what is happening. Methodology: Ex A: Ask the students to read the sentences given in bubbles along with the pictures. Encourage the students to speak but do not correct their mistakes, as the purpose here is to improve their oral fluency. Read aloud the task for the exercise: "the students will listen and number the topics in the right order" in their textbooks. Ask the students to follow the dialogue silently in their books while you read it aloud. Read the dialogue with energy and enthusiasm. Now ask the students to tell the order of the topics. Read the dialogue again, stop after each section and ask questions to check if they understand the main points of the dialogue. For example: 1. What are Dave and Jack looking for? 2. What do they find? Ex B: Read the first question and let the students answer it. Make sure that every student participate in this oral activity.

				Ex C: Ask the students to sit in pairs maintaining distance, find the answers to the allotted questions. Encourage them to share their answers. Listen to them and then give your feedback. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share how Jack was safe at the end of the story. Home Work: The students will do worksheet in homework.
Day 5	Unit 1: The sea Lesson 3 Reading: Diving for treasure English, Readers	➤ improve reading skills ➤ develop vocabulary	textbook, writing board	Introduction: Start the lesson by asking the students to share the role play of Jack and Max in the story. Take their response and give your feedback. Methodology: Ex D: The students will complete the sentences with words from the story. They can take help from the text. Ex E: Encourage the students to act the story of Max and Jake. One student can become the storyteller as well. It will help the students develop their speaking and listening skills. Readers: Let the students surf through the pages and then ask the students to sit in pairs and let them read. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share about the readers they have just read. You may ask questions related to the comprehension to check if they understand the story.
