Day 1 80 mins	Unit 1: Role Models Lesson 1	➤ read with understanding ➤ discuss the difference between good and bad behaviour ➤ study the theme of Role models - study the Theme of Avoiding social evils		textbook, writing board	Introduction: Verbal Discussion: Don't ask the students to predict, as there are no visual or verbal cues about the context. Check the meanings in the headings: 'Role Model' means somebody who inspires you, somebody who knows how to live a good life, both in general ways and in particular acts. Take their views and tell them that the topic they will learn about is Role Models (An Incident from the Life of Hazrat Muhammad PBUH) Methodology: Development of Reading and Speaking Skills Ex A: • Brainstorm with the class and ask for adjectives describing manners, e.g. rude, polite, impolite, friendly, unfriendly, honest, and dishonest. • Write them on the board. This is a good opportunity to revise pairs of adjectives with opposite meanings. Read aloud the text with plenty of feeling and varied intonation. • Go through the text and check the meaning of abstract words e.g. 'patience, suffered', using translation if necessary. • Make the students underline all the adverbs in the text ending with 'ly' such as: badly, cruelly, politely, harshly showing the how something happens. Ex B: Pair Work: • Read aloud the gapped summary. • Check the meanings of words like 'behave, ignore, and respond'. • The students will complete the summary alone, or in pairs. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to underline some examples of the merciful nature of Hazrat Muhammad (PBUH) and encourage them to share some more. Home Work: The students will revise the classwork in homework.

Day 2	Unit 1: Role Models Lesson 2	➤ scan the personal email to obtain detailed information about fasting during Ramadan ➤ chat in a class discussion, sharing personal experiences about Ramadan ➤ study the Theme of festivals and events	textbook, writing board, worksheet	Introduction: Classroom Discussion: Introduce the topic by talking about the artwork. Ask general questions, e.g. ➤ What can you see in the photo? ➤ What parts of the mosque are visible? ➤ Why is a new moon important in the Islamic calendar? Methodology: Development of Reading and Speaking Skills Ex A: Ask the students to look at the text. Ask general questions, e.g. 1. What kind of text is it? (an email) 2. Who is it from? (Mona) Who is it to? (Beth)'.  • This is an opportunity for students to skim-read a text fast to get a general idea. • Let them read the email fast in silence and then answer the comprehension question. • Then read the text yourself aloud with plenty of expression, checking comprehension, e.g. 'fast/fasting' as you do this. Ex B: Pair Work: • Read aloud the rubric. Make sure that students have their notebooks ready. • Get the class to shut their books. • Students work in pairs to make a list of groups of people who do not have to fast during Ramadan. • Ask pairs to read out their lists. As they do this, write the information on the board, whether it is right or wrong. Do not correct the answers yet. • Read aloud the text with plenty of emphasis and lively intonation. Tick the groups listed on the board that are in the text. • Discuss any other groups that students listed, but which are not in the text. • Discuss why it is important that these specific groups do not have to fast. • Discuss the general topic of health and wellbeing, both physical and mental. Ex C: • Let students contribute their own ideas on this topic. • To help them, you could write topic headings on the board, e.g. feel hungry/thirsty, bedtimes (early/late), breakfast customs in the family, making family visits after breakfast etc.' Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share their own family stories that they remember from Ramadan. Home Work: The students will do the worksheet in homework.

Day 3	Unit 1: Role Models Lesson 3	➤ read a short article, which includes a story ➤ discuss plans about a journey which runs into difficulties ➤ discuss and choose the best title for a story ➤ study the theme of ethics and values, and the meaning of ‘courage’	textbook, writing board	Introduction: Concentrate on the artwork to establish the context and circumstances of a story. Ask lots of questions, e.g. What can you see in the picture? What kind of vehicle can you see? (minibus) Is it in the town or in the countryside? Where exactly is it? (in a ditch) Why will it be difficult to move the minibus? (the minibus is heavy, the snow is deep, the minibus is in a ditch) Methodology: Ex A: Read aloud the two parts of the text with lots of excitement and lively intonation. Make the story sound dramatic! Ex B: Read aloud the rubric and the four possible titles. Discuss each title in turn. Invite students to give their own opinions, with their reasons. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share some example of bravery and courage of their own.
Day 4	Grammar: Lesson 1: “Proper Nouns”	➤ learn and practice proper nouns ➤ differentiate between common noun and proper noun ➤ learn to punctuate the proper nouns	grammar book, whiteboar d	Introduction: Write some words on the board and ask the students to identify proper noun from the words. (book, Miss Sara, Harry Book, pen etc). Explain to them that names of person, places, and books are proper nouns. They always start with capital letter. Methodology: Ask the students to look at the pictures and read their names. Ask them to observe one special thing in those proper nouns. Tell them these all are proper nouns and start with capital letter. Tell the students that the names of books, films and plays are also proper nouns. Let Us Understand: Make the students sit in pairs and ask them to capitalize the words (Proper Nouns) given in the exercise. (Make sure that the students remember that we use capital letters for the first letter of the first word and other important words in the titles of books, films and plays.) Practice: Ex A: Ask a volunteer student to define common noun and give examples (book, pencil, garden, tree etc. Draw two columns on the board naming “common nouns” and “proper nouns”. Now ask the students to come and write the nouns in their respective columns. After differentiating common noun from proper nouns, ask the students to capitalize the first letters of proper nouns on the board. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to give one example of proper noun from the given common nouns (book, river, place/country, boy, girl)
Day 5	Grammar: Lesson 1: Proper Nouns	➤ more practice proper nouns ➤ learn to punctuate the proper nouns	grammar book, whiteboar d	Introduction: Initiate the lesson by asking the students to share the title of a book they have ever read. Such as Cinderella, Beauty and the Beast, Red Riding Hood etc. Encourage them to share the names of the characters of the book. Tell them that the names of the characters of the book are also proper nouns. Methodology Practice:

				Ex B: Ask the students to read the sentences carefully and complete them by inserting the correct proper nouns. Make them sure to capitalize the first letter of the proper nouns even if it is in the middle of the sentence. Extended Exercise: Ask the students to share what they can in the given picture on page 9. Take their response. Now tell them that the two girls in the picture are discussing a book “Black Beauty”. Ask the students to sit in pairs, read the dialogues of the two girls and punctuate (capitalize) their dialogues where necessary. Tell them that the first letter of each sentence also begins with a capital letter. Wrap up: Wrap up the lesson by asking the students to share the story of Black Beauty and its characters.
